wood diffuser hinoco

Handcrafted by skilled artisans

Made from trees grown in Japanese forests

Wood diffuser made of Japanese Cypress (Hinoki), based on the concept of contributing to the conservation of nature by knowing and understanding more about trees, forests, and nature.

wood diffuser rin

A natural diffuser that matches modern interior design, making the most of the uniqueness of wood

---

An individually unique diffuser that adds a touch of nature to any interior.

This natural wood diffuser is made of Sugi (Japanese Cedar) and Hinoki (Japanese Cypress) grown in Hinohara Village in Tokyo and is friendly to both humans and the environment.

*It was created by recycling lumber from the sustainable process of forest thinning to preserve the natural environment.

stone diffuser TOKONAME

Stone diffuser with unique color and form made by one of the Six Ancient Kilns in Japan

---

Celebrate Japanese tradition while experiencing a high-quality scent with this stone diffuser

Designed in collaboration with Tokoname pottery, renowned for tea sets and other tableware, with the desire to share the techniques and traditions of Japanese pottery internationally. In order to maximize absorption, trial production was thoroughly conducted. From selection and incorporation of soil to temperature control within the kiln, a new genre of Tokoname, the stone diffuser was born. Each diffuser is molded and polished by hand.

stone diffuser mini

Two ceramic stones to enjoy different scents in different situations.

Metal carrying case comes with the diffuser.
